

INT. ELENA'S CABIN - EVENING

Elena rips up 'Portrait of Jacqueline' and throws it in the fire. Sandi examines another copy of it as Lucien rolls a joint.

SANDI

You did a great job.

ELENA

Nah, it would never fly under examination. It should fool the caretaker though - for a while.

She hands it to Elena who throws it in the fire. Sandi pours them both more red wine. Elena gets up and goes to a side table where the original is placed. She stares at it before she carefully rolls it up and places it in a metal tube and screws a cap on it.

Lucien stands raising his beer.

LUCIEN

Well done ladies, cheers.

They all toast. He leans over grabs Elena and pulls her into kiss her, spilling her wine.

LUCIEN (CONT'D)

I am going to marry you! Yes, I am going to marry this woman. You are my kind of girl.

Sandi sits.

SANDI

You have it all arranged with the buyer?

LUCIEN

(Taking a toke), Yeah, that's no problem. We spoke. Him and I go way back. We used to sell drugs together for the Angels back east. (Exhales the pot smoke, choking)

SANDI

Is that supposed to be a good reference for him?

Lucien ignores her.

LUCIEN

Man, they were some crazy times.
One time, one time we stole this car cuz we had to go pick up...

SANDI

We don't care about your glory days
Lucien, we want to make sure this is going to unfold smoothly.

LUCIEN

Relax, I said its sewn up, it's sewn up.

Elena cuts in.

ELENA

I am going to buy the first ticket to Paris I can.

Lucien looks up.

ELENA (CONT'D)

I want to travel.

LUCIEN

What about me?

She kisses him.

ELENA

Get a passport.

Elena takes the rest of her studies and throws them in the fire.

LUCIEN

I wanted to take a picture, for Facebook.

SANDI

Are you out of your fucking mind?

LUCIEN

I was fucking joking.

SANDI

I have to go.

Elena is putting the tube into a panel behind the wall.she replaces the panel and follows Sandi out.
